'SOVIET ARK' SAILS WITH REDS

ELLIS ISLAND IS ATTACKED BY REDS

WOMAN WHO DECLARED HUSBAND HAD BEEN DEPORTED LED MOB THAT ATTACKED AND BEAT POLICE.

By News Special Service
NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Led by a woman who declared her husband had been deported to Russia yesterday on the Buford, a mob of 150 Reds today attacked the entrance to the Ellis Island Ferry in an effort to reach fellow radicals awaiting deportation.

The mob formed around the gatekeepers' cage several minutes before the attack was launched. Then the woman, proclaiming herself an anarchist, stepped forward and drove both fists through the glass window. The mob turned on the first policeman to answer the riot call and beat him, but when more reserves with fixed bayonets arrived, the crowd suddenly became docile.

A young Russian woman who gave the name of Clara Brooks, was arrested as the ring leader.

Service Flag Is Demobilized At Christian Church

To the minor strains of "Keep the Home Fires Burning," the service flag of the First Christian Church was lowered at a special service held last evening. The big American flag that has floated in the church since the beginning of the war was taken down at the same time.

The evening program was especially impressive. From the voluntary, "The Star Spangled Banner," by Mrs. Woods to the closing prayer by A. C. Chaney, the several numbers on the program were listened to with marked attention by the large assembly. The scripture lesson was the 23rd Psalm read by Dr. R. G. Sears, who also offered the prayer. This followed the invocation by Rev. C. V. Dunn and the congregational song "God Bless Our Native Land."

Mrs. M. L. Perkins accompanied by Miss Francisco at the piano gave the popular reading, "The American Flag," by Joseph Rodman Drake. After the singing of "America," by the congregation, T. P. Holt delivered a most excellent address on "Our Service Flag." Mr. Holt was chairman of the county exemption board during the war, and in his address last evening gave several incidents pertaining to his experiences as chairman of the board. He told of the eagerness of the young men of the county to go into the military service without waiting for the formality of a call. He mentioned the flags of several nations—China, Great Britain, Turkey, Germany, Austria—and referred to the emblems on those flags. The Yellow Dragon on the Chinese flag, he said, should be changed to a bee hive, which would be a fitter emblem of that industrious and peaceful people. The cross on the British flag is eminently suitable when one remembers that it was the British troops who drove the Moslem out of Jerusalem and rescued the City of David from the oppression of the infidel. Mr. Holt also paid a hearty tribute to the fifty-one young men of the First Christian Church who served in the army or navy during the war.

Possibly the most effective number of the entire program was the singing of "They Sleep On the Fields of France" by the choir of the church. This number was rendered with a beauty and sympathy that appealed deeply to the entire congregation. The famous poem "In Flanders Field," was delivered with rare effect by Mrs. Marvin Brown. The principal address of the program had been assigned to Luther Harrison, who discussed the ideals represented by the American flag and the heroism and sacrifice represented by the service flag. The invocation by the pastor and the benediction closed a program that was a distinct honor to all those boys whose names were on the service flag and a credit to the congregation presenting the exercises.

WHEN JOHN COMES MARCHING HOME

THE LITTLE BAILIWICK OF LACLEDE, MISSOURI, GETTING READY FOR THE RECEPTION OF PERSHING

By the Associated Press
LACLEDE, Mo., Dec. 22.—Laclede is getting ready for the homecoming of its most famous son, General John Joseph Pershing, who is to be here tomorrow, December 23. Laclede has been awaiting the general a long time—ever since he came back from France. For it was in this little town that General Pershing was born.

Laclede was a town of three hundred then—that was September 13, 1860. Laclede is a town of 700 now—a rambling Missouri town of two banks, one weekly newspaper, a few general stores, a big park where, in warm weather, residents were wont to gather and discuss the war, and Pershing's part in it, and what he had and hadn't done when he was a boy in Laclede.

Laclede generally agrees that John Pershing—that is Laclede's designation for the commander-in-chief of the A. E. F.—was "no way remarkable" as a boy. He grew up, went to school and church and Sunday school, fished, hunted, and was interested in getting an education.

He graduated from the Kirksville Normal School at 20, and then, an opportunity presenting itself to enter a competitive examination for West Point, Pershing availed himself of it, went by one point and went to the military academy. Since that time Laclede has seen little of his famous son.

He made a visit twelve or fourteen years ago, and called on "Aunt" Susan Hewitt, pioneer, who says "Laws, yes, I remember John when he wasn't more than two or three years old. We used to run the hotel, and when John was big enough to put on trousers, he used to eat more pie in our kitchen than any boy in town."

Laclede is planning the biggest sort of a day December 23. There won't be much formality, but plenty of handshaking, music, oratory, fried chicken and home-made preserves.

GEORGE READY TO REPORT IRISH BILL

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Dec. 22.—Premier Lloyd George was ready at the opening of Parliament today to announce the details of the Irish bill, the measure which will, it is believed, give a large amount of autonomy to Ireland, has been modeled after the state governmental systems of the United States, according to recent statements.

Two legislatures, one for Ulster and one for Southern Ireland, would be provided and the way is left open for a union of the two sections. Full-fledged freedom would be accorded the Irish legislatures in administering the affairs of the island, while in matters affecting the empire, Ireland would have a voice in the imperial parliament.

Neither Joseph Devlin nor other nationalist members of parliament are expected to attend the meeting today which is regarded as showing that their minds are already made up on the bill.

Principals Among the Throng Are Emma Goldman and Her Good Friend, Berkman.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The "Soviet Ark," Budard, which sailed for an unnamed Russian port yesterday with two hundred and forty-nine radicals on board, will be followed before she can land, by a second boat load of "reds," according to the best information obtainable today. It was stated that a second batch of deportees probably will be in port sometime this week composed of aliens thought to have been plotting the overthrow of the constitutional government. The department of justice has 50,000 radicals spotted. How many of these will follow their leaders to their home lands has not been made known.

The deportation of Emma Goldman and her devoted companion, Alexander Berkman, ends a joint career of 30 years in the United States, during which they preached the overthrow of government by violence. He spent 16 years and she three years in jail. But they were never punished for the part their teachings played in attacks by others on life and property.

Berkman served fourteen years for shooting Henry Clay Frick and two years for urging young men to abstain from registering for the draft early in the war. Miss Goldman was in prison two years for opposing conscription and one year for inciting to riot. Berkman was never brought to trial on indictment for murder in connection with the Preparedness Day bomb outrage in San Francisco. Miss Goldman was acquitted of illegal distribution of birth-control literature.

Their joint activities as publishers of the anarchist magazines, "Mother Earth" and "The Blast," suppressed during the war, combined with their addresses at anarchists' meetings, helped cause the assassination of President McKinley, the government charged in its deportation proceedings. The confession of Czolgosz described the influence which Miss Goldman's writings had on him.

Their influence was traced in the dynamiting of the U. S. Express Times, Matthew Schmidt and David Caplan, now in jail with others for that crime, were of "the Goldman clan," Attorney General Palmer has said.

They were suspected of receiving German money to oppose preparedness by the United States before the United States entered the war.

They co-operated with German spies in endeavoring to promote a revolution in India during the war. They were the pioneer radicals in the United States. Now there are 60,000 Reds here and 427 disloyal foreign language newspapers, according to Attorney General Palmer.

Demanded by judges and other public officials from President Roosevelt down to enemies of the country seeking to destroy it but regarded by women anarchists who greeted them with kisses, as "beautiful characters 100 years ahead of their times," they so increased their following that it was easy for them to provide $15,000 or $25,000 a month in cash or Liberty Bonds. Yet fines of $10,000 each for opposing the draft were unpaid. They had no property, they said.

For more than 10 years their deportation had been agitated and at times seemed near but no formal proceedings for this purpose were instituted until the alarming radical Seattle and Winnipeg general strikes, the sending of homes through the mail to Attorney General Palmer and other prominent men, the formation of branches of the communist party and plans for anarchistic demonstrations on the anniversary of the formation of the Soviet republic of Russia, which were frustrated by counterattacks, made the move. These raids made a total of 697 anarchists arrested in the United States on deportation charges in the last two years.

When their co-workers, the nihilists in Russian, whence they came to youth, overtook the Bolsheviks and formed the Soviet government after the downfall of the monarch, they were a minor Goldman championed a similar government and social order for this country. Berkman, who was arrested for deportation, predicted that he would return to the United States as Soviet ambassador and Goldman prophesied a revolution here within five years.

American capitalists are the most greedy in the world, she said, and when the times come they are going to pay a terrible price for a thunder storm in bread in the United States.

Yet when given opportunity during their many appearances in court to air their views, they repudiated violence.

OFFICERS AND 6 OF CREW MUTINY

TWO PETTY OFFICERS AND NINE OF THE CREW OF THE TRANSPORT AMERICA FACE GRAVE CHARGES.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—Two petty officers and nine members of the crew of the U. S. army transport, America, charged with mutiny on the high seas and other crimes, faced an official investigation today on board the ship at her pier in Hoboken. Six other members of the crew are reported to be in the transport hospital suffering from gunshot wounds received during a fight attending the mutiny. An official report said the trouble was fomented by an I. W. W. agitator.

It is charged that the men attempted to leave the ship without permission, let the fires die out, imperil her safety by cutting off the electric lights, frighten women passengers and gamble in defiance of officers.

One of the ring leaders is said to be William Calkins, an ordinary seaman reputed to be a member of the I. W. W.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—No reports concerning the mutiny on the army transport America had been received at the war department early today, officials said.

Today Dec. 22, Is the Shortest Day of the Year

Had you stopped in your mad rush of the approaching holidays to think that today is the shortest day of the year.

Well, it is whether you had thought about it or not.

Altho Dec. 21 is the day the average person believes to be the shortest, such is not the case according to the various weather bureaus of the country and other scientists. "Old Sol" takes his longest rest the following day. In other words the shortest day of the year is when the sun is farthest from the equator. Today the sun gets at that point than any other day of the year, and for that reason is a few seconds shorter than any other day. It is said that the shortest day of the year is 9 hours and 20 minutes long.

Normal Senior To Superintend Woodville School

John B. Turner, a senior in East Central, has been elected superintendent of schools at Woodville and will begin work there next Monday. Mr. Turner graduated from the Davis High School about three years ago. As superintendent of Woodville schools he will be paid $168.66 a month, which is interesting when it is recalled that that is the exact salary paid heads of departments in the Normal, who have been teaching from ten to twenty-five years. An additional advantage Mr. Turner has is that he will be paid each four weeks, while the Normal teachers are paid by the calendar month. The salaries of Mr. Turner is a good illustration of the splendid work being done by the Normal in training teachers for the schools of the state.

Personal Injury Suit Now Filed Against The City

Suit for damages against the city of Ada has been filed by J. B. Brandon because of personal injuries received by plaintiff November 5. Plaintiff alleges in his petition that the defendant city by its agents or employees had dug a ditch across the sidewalk just west of Constant Avenue on the south side of Main Street; that no lights or warning signals were put out, and when plaintiff started home at night he was unable to see the ditch and fell therein much to his detriment. By falling against some debris of the broken sidewalk he broke three ribs and badly bruised his body, receiving permanent injuries.

Plaintiff alleges that he was confined to his bed for about forty days and forced to pay a doctor $40 for medical attention. He declares that he had been earning from five to eight dollars a day and that because of his injuries he has not been able to earn anything. He therefore brings his suit for $500.00 damages already received, $500.00 prospective damages and $40.00 medical bills. King & Crawford are his attorneys.

SUPREME COUNCIL TRYING TO SETTLE

ANXIOUS TO REACH AGREEMENT WITH GERMANY ON REPARATIONS TO RUSH SIGNING OF PROTOCOL

By the Associated Press

PARIS, Dec. 22.—The supreme council, it became known today, is making an effort to reach an agreement with Germany in reparation for the sinking of the German Fleet at Scapa Flow, so the protocol may be signed and ratifications be exchanged before Christmas. The terms of the note replying to the last German communication to German representatives were considered by the council this morning. It was planned to hold another session this afternoon. New details remain to be disposed of by the council and to clean up the work of the peace conference with the exception of the Hungarian and Turkish treaty and the Russian situation.

Serbian demands for funds to the amount of two billion five million francs, on the same footing as that accorded Belgium, was discussed by the council today, but no decision was reached. All interested powers except Roumania have cooperated in the allotment for distribution. The council decided to send a note to Roumania asking her to signify her objections.

Poker Players Repent and Sign Pledge to Quit

Three young men of the city of Ada were before Mayor Kitchens in police court this morning to give inside information concerning a game of poker in which the aforesaid three were engaged yesterday when rudely interrupted and apprehended by the city police. The young men were very penitent when brought into the presence of his honor and gave away solemn promises never to indulge again.

One of the apprehended youths was moved to tears by his own tragic story. He never played poker before. He never had any luck anyway, only drawing a bottled flush. He would lose his job if the story got out. It would break his mother's heart if she should hear of his downfall. The mayor assessed each of the boys $8.75 and received their promises never to play poker again so long as grass grows and water runs.

Wallace Dags was in police court this morning on a charge of getting entirely too full of that inspiring brew forbidden by the laws of state and nation. He received the nominal assessment of $8.75.

W. E. Heady of patent medicine fame was before hizzoner this morning on a charge of disturbing the peace. The star witness against him was one Henry Starbuck. It appears from the context that Heady and Starbuck are interested in the sale of patent medicines and spend their time travelling about the country selling the aforesaid to all buyers. It is said that Heady became agitated because Starbuck trespassed on his territory and proceeded to disturb the peace of the latter in a manner and form not approved by the statutes of the state of Oklahoma. $8.75.

ASK any doughboy who was "over there" and he will tell you that American railroads are the best in the world.

He saw the foreign roads—in England and France, the best in Europe—and in other Continental countries—and he knows.

The part railroads have played in the development of the United States is beyond measure.

American railroads have achieved high standards of public service by far-sighted and courageous investment of capital, and by the constant striving of managers and men for rewards for work well done.

We have the best railroads in the world—we must continue to have the best.

But they must grow.

To the $20,000,000,000 now invested in our railroads, there will have to be added in the next few years, to keep pace with the nation's business, billions more for additional tracks, stations and terminals, cars and engines, electric power houses and trains, automatic signals, safety devices, the elimination of grade crossings—and for reconstruction and engineering economies that will reduce the cost of transportation.

To attract to the railroads in the future the investment funds of many thrifty citizens, the directing genius of the most capable builders and managers, and the skill and loyalty of the best workmen—in competition with other industries bidding for capital, managers and men—the railroad industry must hold out fair rewards to capital, to managers and to the men.

American railroads will continue to set world standards and adequately serve the Nation's needs if they continue to be built and operated on the American principle of rewards for work well done.

This advertisement is published by the Association of Railway Executives.

Those desiring information concerning the railroad situation may obtain literature by writing to The Association of Railway Executives, 61 Broadway, New York.

The railways of the United States are more than one third, nearly one half, of all the railways of the world. They carry a yearly traffic so much greater than that of any other country that there is really no basis for comparison. Indeed, the traffic of any two nations may be combined and still it does not approach the commerce of America borne upon American railways.

WOMEN GIVEN VOTE IN PHILIPPINES

Manila, Dec. 7.—(By Cable).—The equal suffrage bill, giving women full political rights with men, was passed by a practical unanimous vote in the Philippine Senate and sent to the House.

Sentiment in the lower branch of the Philippine Legislature on the question of woman suffrage is believed to be about the same as in the Senate. It is practically certain, therefore, that the Filipina will soon have the vote. Present indications are that she will even beat her American sisters to the ballot box.

This prospect means that the Filipina woman, who has been more or less in the limelight ever since American occupation of the islands, is going to now be in the world's spotlight more than ever. The Filipina has many admirers who predict she will make good in her new role, just as she has made good in the very important role that she has occupied in the family and business of the Philippines ever since the introduction of Christianity in the island three centuries ago.

"America's advent in the Philippines discovered a wonderfully interesting, responsive little being, the Filipino woman," writes one American concerning the Filipina. "Mothering the only Christian people in the Far East, she holds a place of authority, love and respect in family and social life that is not accorded to women in countries neighboring the islands, or in India, China or Japan."

The Filipino woman is by custom the dictator in the home. She is usually the keeper of the family treasury. All revenue, no matter by whom earned, is turned over to the wife and mother, and she it is who has the final say as to how it is to be spent.

In business, it is the verdict of the foreigners in the islands that the women do business nearly on Western principles. Practically all of the small shops in Manila are conducted by the Filipina. The most prosperous contractor for sand and gravel in Manila is a woman. The best paying iron mine in the islands is owned and managed by a woman. Frequently women are sole or part owners in rice mills and similar enterprises. The Filipina's success in business is largely due to her promptness in filling orders and her square dealing.

In dress, the Filipina has all the love of personal adornment that is characteristic of the sex in other lands. After one has become accustomed to the native dress, it is realized that she is neat and particular about her attire. The stiff, wide sleeves and specially folded wide collar, the most individual feature of her costume, are always fresh, never mussed or wrinkled. The same may be said of her sweeping starched skirt. Her straight black hair is simply dressed and is invariably smooth and neat.

The education of the Filipino woman has broadened her scope in life and is making her more interested in the civic activities of the Philippines. In 1917 there were enrolled in the primary and intermediate grades of the public schools 234,905 girls. Filipino women are now occupying positions in the Bureau of Education and the University of the Philippines. There have been established over fifty women's clubs in the Philippines, engaged in social settlement work, the improvement of health conditions, and the prevention of infant mortality.

The doors of each of the several colleges of the University of the Philippines stand open and she passes in side by side with her brother. She meets him on the tennis court, plays his game of volleyball, basket ball and roots vigorously for her favorite on the baseball diamond. There are about 555 girls enrolled in the University of the Philippines. Of the 12,303 Filipino teachers employed in the public schools, 3,982 are women. The report of the Bureau of Labor gives 7,624 women over 16 years of age and 1,209 under 16 years employed in sixteen different kinds of factories.

White Mule Kicks Man From Maine To Denver, Colo.

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 21.—Many perils beset him who look upon the bootleg when it is white.

A man of clerical appearance who looked as if he had "made a night of it," walked up to a ticket window in the Union station Thursday.

"Give me a ticket to Portland," he said.

"Portland, Ore., or Portland, Me.?" inquired the agent.

"Portland, Me., of course," said the man.

The agent spanked a long green strip thru the date.

"Seventy dollars and twenty-eight cents," he announced.

"How do you get that way?" demanded the clerical-looking man.

"You mean $7—unless they've moved Boston a couple of thousand miles during the night?"

"Where do you think you are?" asked the agent. "This is Denver."

"Denver, Colo.?"

"Sure!"

When the clerical-looking man was revived he told his story. He was a bookkeeper for a Maine lumber company. He had been sent to Boston on business and while waiting for the return train had made the acquaintance of some men who had some "white mule." That was Saturday night.

When he woke up it was morning and he was in a strange room and he hurriedly inquired the way to the station.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday and what occurred in those days was a blank. The clerical-looking man telegraphed to Portland, Me., for transportation.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

CANARY BIRD'S HOME.

"Why do you sing so happily, so merrily, so wonderfully?" asked a little fairy of a canary bird.

"So Proud."

I have said is surely the truth."

"I am so glad," said the canary, "for I want to let folks know I am happy."

"Why?" asked the fairy.

"Because," said the canary bird, "I want to make them happy, too."

"That's a very sweet little wish," said the fairy. "How did you happen in the first place to think of it?"

"Well," said the canary, "when my master bought me he gave me my little mate for company. She twitters a little and chirps and talks to me so sweetly, but she is not a great singer."

"I like to hear him sing," said his little mate. "I feel so proud of my mate. I like to think of myself."

"Mrs. Canary, your husband has the most glorious of voices. You're a lucky little canary to be his mate."

She cocked her head on one side and looked at Mr. Canary lovingly.

"Ah, my sweet little mate," he said. "Well, after my master bought my little mate, too, and didn't allow us to be separated, for they had told him in the bird shop we loved each other, he gave us this lovely home."

"It is a lovely home," said the fairy. She looked all about her. The canaries were in a large cage in a flower shop. The sun poured in through the windows and though the day was chilly, it was quite, quite warm in the flower shop.

All around were lovely flowers. Many were growing in plants and everywhere there were green ferns. Some were hanging down from the ceiling; some were around the floor.

Then there were lovely cut flowers in a case where they were kept all fresh and cool, and there were lovely flowers in vases all about the shop.

There was a lovely warm fragrance of sweet-scented flowers, which had just been watered.

"Isn't it a lovely home?" asked the canary.

"It is indeed," said the fairy.

"Well," the canary continued, "that is why I sing so happily and so joyfully. And I think, I really think, without being conceited about it, that my voice has improved since I have been so happy."

"I've tried not to let it spoil me, and I've tried not to let Mrs. Canary spoil me too much." He looked at Mrs. Canary cooly and winked his right eye and blinked his left one.

"I've tried to tell all the creatures who came in to the shop, and the master, too, that I'm happy and pleased, and so I want to make others feel the same way."

"I've my own lovely little mate. I love her and she loves me, and we've both got the good sense to be glad and not try to think of something to fight about. We know that two little birds can be very happy, and that it wouldn't make us happy in the least to ask for things we haven't got and wouldn't know what to do with if we had them."

"We can enjoy the sunshine, but we don't want to own the sun, do we? It wouldn't do, that's certain. And we love the fragrant flowers, and so I sing and sing and sing of the glorious life which we lead."

"My little throat tries to tell in its singing something like this:

"Oh, let our voices at happiness ring. Of the joy that is ours let us sing, let us sing."

And the canary sang for all he was worth, while the fairy bowed and waved a smiling good-bye.

ANNIVERSARY OF PILGRIM FATHERS

THREE HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION TO LAST FROM MAY TO DECEMBER NEXT YEAR.

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The 300th anniversary of the Pilgrim Fathers, tentative plans of which have just been announced here, will include celebrations in England, Holland and the United States and will continue from May to December, 1920.

A four day program in Leyden, Amsterdam and Rotterdam, whence the Pilgrims sailed three centuries ago to the American wilderness where they might find "freedom to worship God," will start on August 30, when committees from the United States and England will be received at the University of Leyden. Addresses commemorative of the occasion will be delivered by scholars from the three countries, including the rector of the university, Dr. Rensel Harris of Manchester, England, Viscount Bryce and a famous American who has not yet been designated.

The next day, August 31, the birthday of the Queen of the Netherlands, will include, beside a congress in the Town Hall, a religious service in the Pieterskerk in which the Rev. John Robinson, who led the separatists from the Church of England (the Pilgrims) to Holland in 1609, was buried.

One of the features of the holiday at Amsterdam on September 1, will be a meeting in the Rijksmuseum, the unveiling of a memorial window in the Ragijnkerk and a reception. The next day there will be an aquatic pageant in Rotterdam, the visitors traveling in the morning from Leyden to Delftshaven, is possible, by boat along the way the Pilgrims went. Then there will be trips to the religious havens of Rotterdam, a memorial service in the church at Delftshaven and at 7 P. M. the English and American contingents will depart for Southampton.

The celebration in England will start in May, 1920, with meetings in Scrooby, the home of Robinson, Austerfield, Boston and Sheffield. From August 4 to September 20 there will be ceremonies in Cambridge, London, Southampton and other places, culminating in the sailing of a new Mayflower, which will carry the returning American committee and British and Dutch delegations who are to participate in the program on this side of the Atlantic.

Main events of the American celebration will be in Plymouth, Mass., and Boston, where historical pageants will be held, followed by a big reception in New York. Vice-president Marshall is Honorary Chairman of the committee having the local program in charge. The foreign visitors will then be taken on a tour of the United States. On November 24, 1920, there will be a universal observance of Thanksgiving Day in England, Holland and the United States.

Ranch Boys Ride 106 Miles on Mule To Enlist in Navy

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Dec. 21.—After riding 106 long snowy miles on an old mule, two pals from Green River, Utah, arrived at Grand Junction on an old 14-year-old mule, named Bill. Bill was flea bitten, hide-bound, knock kneed, interfered and had a kick like a 13-inch gun.

"Whoa thar, you pesky critter," said James Routhford and John Soper as they drew rein in front of the Reed building, dismounted and stretched, tied their steed to the lamp post and then made a bee-line for the navy recruiting station. They had made the trip in four days and two hours and come all the way from a little log cabin 106 miles out on a cattle ranch.

"Well, we are here. I suppose you got our letter," they said to the navy recruiting officer. "It was a long hard trip, but we were so anxious to get in the navy we did not want to wait for the government transportation that we could have received thru our postmaster. We sure had a hard trip," said Soper, as he shook the snow off of his hat and coat.

is the furthest we have ever been from the ranch," they told McDowell, "and now we have our chance." They were examined and James Routhford passed, while Richard Soper was rejected.

"The navy is no cinch to enter for a man on his first cruise," said the navy recruiting officer. "How did you get all of those teeth knocked out?" "Bill kicked me in the jaw about five years ago," replied Soper, "and he kicked me off once before; that is how I got the bum knee."

SHE WAS a little tot.
 ABOUT FOUR years old.
 OR SOMETHING like that.
 AND SHE and her mother.
 WERE STANDING.
 IN FRONT of the Surprise Store.
 AND SHE was carrying.
 A LITTLE old doll.
 KIND OF ragged.
 AND RATHER dirty.
 AND IT had lost.
 THE TOP of its head.
 AND DIRECTLY.
 ANOTHER LITTLE girl.
 AND HER mother.
 CAME OUT of the Surprise Store.
 AND THE second little girl.
 WAS CARRYING a doll.
 ALMOST AS big as herself.
 ALL DRESSED up nice.
 AND JUST as beautiful.
 AS IT could be.
 AND SHE carried it.
 IN HER arms.
 VERY CAREFULLY.
 AS IF she were afraid.
 THAT IT would break.
 AND THE first little girl.

THE ONE with the ragged doll.
 CAUGHT A glimpse.
 OF THE big new doll.
 AND HER eyes lit up.
 AND HER mouth came open.
 AND SHE watched it.
 AS LONG as she could.
 AND THEN she kind of sighed.
 AND LOOKED wishful.
 BUT ONLY for a second.
 AND I saw her look down.
 AT HER own little doll.
 WITH ITS broken head.
 AND ITS dirty face.
 AND RAGGED clothes.
 AND SHE bent down.
 AND KISSED it.
 AND HUGGED it.
 JUST A little tighter.
 AND PATTED it.
 ON THE broken place.
 ON TOP of its head.
 AND I'll bet.
 THAT SHE makes.
 A MUCH better mother.
 TO HER little doll.
 THAN THE other girl.
 WITH THE great big new one.

CONCLUSION OF THE NEW EINSTEIN THEORY

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Dr. A. A. Michelson, of the University of Chicago, says that anyone holding the new Einstein theory of "relativity" must also accept the following conclusions:

"A yardstick is shorter when it is pointing east and west than it is when pointing north and south. A clock will run slower when it is being moved than when it is standing.

"A mass of matter is greater when it is in action than when it is at rest."

Dr. Michelson was winner of the $40,000 Nobel prize for physics in 1917. His investigations in the action of light brought on the discussion leading up to the Einstein tests and hypothesis which have aroused so much comment in the scientific world.

Dr. Michelson stated that the consequences of the Einstein theory are radical and then he told the effect it would have on the yardstick, clock and solid body. But he added that we need not get excited about it, even if Einstein is right. "The movement of the earth is small compared to the velocity of light and for all practical purposes might be disregarded," he said. "The subject of relativity belongs to the realm of higher physics, but nevertheless, it is an important matter and the Einstein theory is to be seriously reckoned with."

Professor Michelson however, does not as yet accept the theory as it is taught by the great Swiss mathematician, because it does away with the idea of light traveling by means of the vibration of ether which is supposed to fill all space.

"Einstein thinks that there is no such thing as ether," declared the Chicago professor. "He does not attempt to account for the transmission of light, but he holds that ether should be thrown overboard. Either gives us some reference point for motion, but according to the Einstein theory all motion is relative. I believe it is possible, with certain modifications of this hypothesis, to square it with the ether theory and the necessity of some medium for the transmission of light. Then my main objection would be removed."

HUNS WILL GET U. S. BOOZE FOR $2.00 PER GALLON

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—Whiskey at $2 a gallon! That is what Germany will pay, according to Joseph Wolf, president of the James E. Pepper distributing company. The distillery is located in Kentucky but the business office is in Chicago.

"Nearly 1,000 barrels and 3,000 cases of whiskey will go to Hamburg, Germany," said Mr. Wolf. "Two hundred barrels of our supply will go to Holland, a like amount to Sweden, and 1,000 cases to Switzerland."

"This is good news to American travelers. If they like Pepper whiskey they may purchase it in every capital of Europe within a few months."

"There is no tax to be paid on export whiskey, except a nominal one of ten cents per case. It will cost us $150 a case to lay the wet goods down in Hamburg and we are getting $2 a gallon for it, the Germans to pay the import tax on their side. Our case goods have been sold to the German trade at $15 a case of three gallons. We consider this a very good business deal."

Interesting Figure At Annual Bar Meet At Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 22.—One of the most interesting characters in attendance upon the annual convention of the Oklahoma State Bar Association, in session here last week, is A. N. Norwood of Dewey, who has been a practicing lawyer in Oklahoma since 1871. Mr. Norwood is still active and maintains a practice giving his time almost entirely to departmental and Indian litigation.

He built the first "shack" in what is now the city of Tulsa, the material for the building of the extension of the Frisco Railway when Ft. Gibson was the only settlement, and almost entirely populated by soldiers, between Ft. Smith and Ft. Reno. He hunted on the Canadian river when, he said, there was nothing at the present site of Oklahoma City, save buffalo and Indians.

Christmas in the Barnyard

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

CHRISTMAS is coming," crowed Mr. Rooster.

"Christmas is coming," gobbled Mr. Turkey.

"Don't be too happy about it, for you may be eaten, Mr. Turkey," said Miss Hen.

And then she clucked. "Christmas is coming."

"Gobble, gobble, gobble," said Mr. Turkey. "You needn't be so sure that you won't be eaten yourself."

"Well, it's the best time of the year to be eaten. It's an honor."

"That's what I've always said," gobbled Mr. Turkey. "Please, Miss Hen, try to be original."

"I may try to be many things," clucked Miss Hen, "but it is impossible for me to try to be original."

"Why?" asked Mr. Turkey, who was much puzzled.

"Because I don't know what it is to be original. I don't know what the word means. How can I be something if I don't even know what that something is? I can't try to be a thing I don't know anything about."

"You could ask what it means, couldn't you?" inquired Mr. Turkey.

"Are you too proud for that?"

"Not too proud," said Miss Hen. "but I don't ask favors. I like to have them handed to me without the asking. It makes me appear so superior."

"Absurd," said Mr. Turkey.

"Well, if you think so then," said Miss Hen, "I suppose I will have to swallow my pride or my superiority and be friendly at this time of the year. Yes, I will actually ask you. What does it mean to be original?"

"I will tell you," said Mr. Turkey. "but first of all let me say that you cannot swallow your pride nor your superiority. Those are not things to eat."

"You may rise above your pride, but it is impossible to swallow it."

"Now, Mr. Turkey, I may be only a poor hen, but I know a few things. It's a saying and a perfectly good saying when I speak of swallowing my pride. Everyone knows no one means to chew it and swallow it actually. Besides, as far as that is concerned, I might say to you that it was not correct to talk about rising above your pride as though pride were the ground and one took a trip in an airplane above it."

"Let us not quarrel," said Mr. Turkey, "for the joyous Christmas season is fast approaching."

"Yes," muttered Miss Hen, "and I was fast approaching victory in that argument."

Mr. Turkey pretended he hadn't heard.

"Oh, by the way," he said, after a moment's pause, "you wanted me to tell you what it meant to be original."

"Yes," clucked Miss Hen, while a smile passed over her hen face.

"Well," continued Mr. Turkey, "when a creature is original and says original things it means he is saying things he has thought up himself and hasn't copied from someone else. A person who has original ideas all his own. A creature who says original things, says things no other creature says."

"You copied me when you said it was an honor to be eaten at Christmas. That was what I have always said."

"Don't be so fussy, Mr. Gobbler," said Miss Hen; "we can't all be original, as you call it. Besides words are words and we all have to use the same ones to be understood, so what difference does it make how we put them together?"

Mr. Turkey walked proudly about, as though some creatures really hadn't enough brains to bother talking to, but soon a great noise was heard.

The pigs were all squealing and grunting.

"It is the time of the year when everyone should give me presents," squealed Pinky Pig.

"Everyone should give me presents. That is what Christmas means," said Porky Pig.

"They should all give them to me," said Brother Bacon, "or you pigs don't know the spirit of Christmas giving."

"You don't know it yourself," said Miss Hahn. "Christmas is coming. I'm all ready for presents."

But the other animals sighed and shook their heads.

"Pigs don't even forget they are pigs during the Christmas season!"

DOLLAR WORSHIP HAS PASSED OUT

AMERICAN IDEALS ARE HIGHER SINCE THE WAR AND WE ARE BOOSTERS NOW SAYS SOCIAL EXPERT.

NORMAN, Dec. 20.—American ideals are no longer materialistic. Americans now worship less the dollar and more the talent, virtue and heroism of the man behind the dollar, according to Dr. Jerome Dowd, director of the school of social service in the University of Oklahoma.

"Foreigners frequently comment on the flashy dress, extensive display of jewelry and general ostentation in costume of American women," he wrote.

"During the war while women were eating brown bread, drinking coffee without sugar and preaching conservation, they succumbed completely to the rage for silk underwear. Since the war it is notable that they have gone to extremes in the purchase of expensive goods of every kind to an extent never dreamed of before."

The American habit of boasting also is criticized.

"We, as a people, are the most boastful in the world," he said. "Charles Dickens once remarked 'the American people were born crowing.' The everlasting bragging of our citizens abroad has given us a bad reputation."

Women are more cultured than men who are too engrossed in exploiting the resources of the country, and have turned over higher culture to the women, the author believes. This may result in our culture becoming effeminated, he fears. He says American men have less culture than those of any other modern country.

Dr. Dowd has previously published two volumes of a book, "The Negro Race," which are used as textbooks in many American universities and even at Oxford. He will read a paper on "The Relation of Race to Democracy," before the American Sociological society, which meets December 23-31 at Chicago.

Christmas Dawn

THIS Christmas morn! 'Tis Christmas morn!
 O! hear the sil'ry bells!
 How softly rare upon the air
 Their mellow chiming swells!
 Behold the skies whose million eyes
 Through silent spaces peer,
 Like brilliant gems, fair diadems
 High set in vesper sphere.

LET us be merry and happy and gay,
 And welcome the Prince with a sweet virelay;
 We'll garner the holly and ever be jolly,
 For blessed is He Who is coming today.
 The bells we'll ring, to bliss we'll cling,
 Our myrrh we'll bring to greet the King,
 For blessed is He Who is coming today,
 Cheerily chant Him a sweet roundelay,
 Merrily, merrily, merrily!

THIS Christmas morn! 'Tis Christmas morn!
 How swift the hours fly!
 And winged-fleet on magic feet
 They vanish like a sigh;
 Now dreamy-dim o'er Orient rim
 The gold-fringed eyes of morn
 Shed loving light on drowsy night
 Ere yet the day is born.
 Now gleams the star whose beams afar
 Weave Heavens silver hem,
 How dove-demure, how seraph-pure,
 Bright Star of Bethlehem!

THEN let us be peaceful and joyous and gay,
 And welcome the Prince with a sweet virelay;
 We'll garner the holly and ever be jolly,
 For blessed is He Who is coming today.
 The bells we'll ring to prayer we'll cling,
 Our incense bring to praise the King,
 For blessed is He Who is coming today;
 Soulfully sing Him a sweet roundelay,
 Merrily, merrily, merrily!

Upon their return to the states they will live in New York.

Australian Aborigines.

As a hunter the native Australian is marvellously adjusted to his environment. His success lies in an intimate knowledge of the habits of animals. Any animal which leaves a track, however dim, in sand, on rock, or in grass falls an easy prey to the black fellow. Children are taught to track lizards and snakes over bare rocks.

Antiquity of the Emerald.

The emerald has been known since early times both in Europe and in certain parts of the Orient, where its attractive color and rarity have endeared it with the highest rank. Its name may be traced back to an old word which appeared in Greek as smaragdus, mentioned in Greek by Theophrastus 300 B. C.

Wedding Custom.

The custom of throwing an old shoe after a bride is quite misapplied when it is done by her companions for luck. According to the spirit of the ceremony, which is of very ancient origin, it should be done by the parent or guardian of the bride as indicating a renunciation of all authority over her.

Wanted More "Bee Jelly."

When Howard was visiting grandma he was given his first taste of honey spread on bread and butter. He liked it so much that upon arriving for a second visit he rushed in exclaiming, "O, grandma, can I have a piece of bread and butter with bee jelly on it?"

HEAVY RAINS HURT STATE COTTON CROP

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10.—Cotton, as well as wheat, is suffering from the recent rains, according to reports received from practically all cotton growing localities in the state. The rains have been general over the state and the average rainfall is reported from 2.25 to four inches during the past four days.

Second crop cotton at McAlester is reported as a total loss. Cotton picking in all the southern counties, where the finest grade of cotton is grown, is stopped and gins are reported closed. While the damage by rain will mean a material loss to the cotton farmers of the state, this is somewhat offset by the putting of the grounds in shape for wheat plowing. In many localities practically no plowing had been done because of the dry and hard condition of the soil.

The sweet potato crop around Henryetta has been delayed by the wet weather, and it is feared the crop cannot be harvested before a damaging frost. However, no material damage to the sweet potatoes has been done directly by the rains.

Oil activities in practically all fields are said to be almost at a standstill because of the muddy condition of the roads. This is offset in a measure by the filling of reservoirs, affording water for drilling. The Hewitt and north Texas fields, where operations are intensive, are particularly hard hit by the bad roads.

ATTENTION, FELLOWS, THEY'RE AFTER U. S. HUSBANDS

The Scotch lassies and their chaperone.

A party of Scotch girls—properly chaperoned of course—has come to America to search for husbands. The picture shows the hubby seekers on their arrival in New York.

Left to right they are: May McInroy, Lillian Gould, three sisters who are Margaret, Nessie and Ellen Goldie; Gladys Hutley and, in front, Mrs. Robert Aitken, chaperone. The main qualifications the girls will ask aren't known.

An airplane was sighted last evening about eight o'clock. The plane was well to the north of the city and appeared to be making about 160 miles an hour, flying in an easterly direction. An airplane in day time is interesting enough but to see one plowing the night air, well lighted, is a scene worth witnessing. Some of those who witnessed the passing of the big plane last night were somewhat like the old man who looked at a giraffe for the first time, then turned away in amazement saying, "There aint no such animal."

Suits Differ in Details of Design

In suits, as in frocks and hats, there is a considerable variety in styles to choose from this season. But these differences are not very apparent until one has given suits a more than casual study; they lie in small details of design. At the beginning of the season suits presented coats both short and long, but the longer coats have persisted and are accepted. Skirts are wider and have gradually grown a little shorter than in the early models. A happy medium is always a safer choice in street clothes, but the item of becomingness is more important than any other and there is a suit for every figure this season. Women should find themselves more becomingly clothed than in seasons where styles are less varied; at present there is every chance to suit individual taste.

Two of the plainer suits, are illustrated above. At the left the model is one of those that refuses to dispense with a vest in a contrasting color, that had such a vogue during the summer. But it shows a coat much lengthened and a skirt comfortably wide. Its collar and fastening are distinctly of the new season, where collars are uniformly snug and cozy looking and either of fur or cloth. Its straight lines are emphasized by small tucks at each side of the coat, but a narrow belt of the material adjusts them to the figure in a way that is easy and smart.

In the suit at the right there is a revelation of the liking for fancier designs in tailored clothes. Oddities of cut, with new fabrics and new colors, make a strong appeal to individual taste and account for many unusual designs. Duvetyn, peachblow, velours and similar cloths are favored for suits of this character, and tricot is best liked for the plainer models, although this is no hard-and-fast rule. Brown, taupe, reindeer, dark green, besides navy, are fashionable colors with which collars and cuffs of seal or beaver, squirrel and kolinsky look particularly well. In the suit shown here Hudson seal makes deep cuffs and a choker that will justify the added expensiveness of fur, which is considerable this year, by doing duty with other costumes. Very small tucks and very large buttons invite consideration as a trimming.

SUNDERS CHAPEL

Everybody is very busy picking cotton at this writing.

This section was visited by another rain Saturday and Sunday. Gowing to the rainy weather Bro. Bond didn't preach at the Chapel Sunday morning but preached Sunday night.

The neat sum of fifteen dollars was made up Sunday night which will be used for the purpose of buying lights for the school house which are very much needed.

Several from this district went to Ada Saturday.

C. C. Nail, the McNeess man, was in this part Monday.

W. G. Jervis and Bert Ledford of near Stratford were visiting L. D. Haskins Sunday evening.

Grover Kent and Vold Burns were visiting James Pannell Sunday evening.

Little Ross and Don Burk of Ada are at their uncle, L. D. Haskins' this week visiting and picking cotton.

This district is without a teacher for the winter term of school, owing to the fact that Mrs. Kimbro, who had contracted for the school, has

WHEN THE NEW YEAR COMES

Nineteen twenty bears abundant promise of being a better year in many respects than 1919 has been. We shall have a presidential campaign in 1920, which will in itself be a blessing, for it will give every dissatisfied citizen of this free country full opportunity to vent his spleen without declaring a strike or dynamiting a factory. The more attention paid to political wrangling the less time the factious will have to wreak vengeance on everything else.

There seems to be just so much devilment in the system of every American, and unless he gets rid of that devilment, woe to the country as a whole, and woe to the country even if he manages to turn his venom loose. Politics has come to be the great American game, and it has also come to be the country's safety valve. The vast accumulations of bile cannot be repressed forever, and it has been found best to let the accumulations loose in a political contest where no one pays much attention to what anyone else does. Therefore the political forum has been set apart as the place for all het-up Americans to vent their spleen.

The pending contest bids fair to light the country from the Golden Gate to the rising sun. Everyone has picked up a choice selection of grievances since the last quadriennial battle and all these ills will be brought forth during the dog days of 1920. The battle bids fair to be pitched on the highest peak of forensic fury. It will be no affair of ladies, however, several million ladies newly enfranchised will figure in the murk and mire of war. Anyone at all jealous of his reputation will at once place that reputation in cold storage or in a safety vault where gas bombs may not tarnish or thieves break through and steal. The politically timid had just as well crawl in their holes and pull their holes in after them. It's going to be one glorious year.

It cannot be said with justice that all our senators are doing nothing nowadays. We have just received a treatise on Egypt by one of our prominent senators. It is a masterly document and shows that much senatorial erudition has been applied to the preparation of the pamphlet. The personal characteristic of the Copt as distinguished from the devotee of Islam, the prevalence of harelip among the belles of Cairo, the present location of the vocal Memnon, the scarcity of three-legged lizzards among the ruins of Karnak, the most approved preventive for ophtalmia in the dormitories at Osiout, all these subjects are vital to the happiness of a people half distracted with wonder as to when the senate will settle the railroad squabble, reduce the high cost of living, and finally act on the peace treaty. When questions of such domestic importance are up in the air it takes a lot of nerve for an American senator to devote his time to Egyptological studies. Yes, it takes a hell of a lot of nerve.

The second election of Victor Berger in Milwaukee is not going to excite very many Americans. The public knows what kind of man Berger is. The public also knows what kind of voters live in Milwaukee. The public is ready to concede that Berger is a worthy representative of his constituency. Therefore the public is not going to get excited and worry any about the election result. But we may be pardoned for remarking that if Berger had been elected from any constituency below Mason and Dixon's line, there would have been much excitement. In such a case the vials of public wrath would have been emptied in denouncing the "disloyalists of the south." But the entire nation knows today that no disloyalist or anarchist can carry a district in the south. And the entire nation knows that if one is seeking a disloyal section, he need go no farther than the country about the lakes.

An editor had better go slow in discussing theological matters. The day after the Daily Ardmoreite ran an editorial arguing that there is no hell, the county commissioners met and took all the county printing away from the Ardmoreite. So it may decide that there is a hell after all.

Newberry of Michigan is going about his senatorial business as if he had a perfect right to his seat in the senate. He has. It's his seat. He paid for it.

Joe Bailey seems to be having one hilarious time down in Texas trying to keep the people from doing what the people want to do.

reign of terror," said Berkman. "Anarchism means the negation of violence. Anarchists teach self-reliance, co-operation and mutual aid in opposition to existing institutions and authority."

In replying to one such exposition after Berkman's conviction in New York for opposing the draft, the United States attorney said to the court:

"The court should know that this man who now claims to be a peace lover and says he is a pacifist, was in 1892, in 1893, in 1894, in 1895, in 1896, in 1897, in 1898, in 1899, in 1900, in 1901, in Ora Faust.

Dear Santa:
How are you? I am just fine. We have tried to be good little children.
Please bring Jack a pop gun and candy, and bring Jessie Lee a pair of little shoes. Your friends,
Jack Moore,
Jessie Lee Woods.

Dear Santa:
Please send me an air gun, cannon, puttees, a khaki wool suit, nuts, fruits, fireworks. That is all.
Your friend,
Douglas.

Dear Santa Claus:
Please bring me a doll, a doll buggy, marshmallows and a tea-kettle. Please remember David, Violet, Hazel and Clytie. Your friend, Elizabeth Ann Wilson.

My Dear Santa Claus:
I have been a good little girl all year and have not giggled a bit at school, so please bring me a doll that can say "Mama," and "Papa," and a stick of red peppermint candy,
also one for my little friend Roland.
Your little friend,
Eddie Mae Horn.

Mr. Santa Claus:
I will drop you a few lines to let you know what I want you to bring me for Christmas. I wish you would bring me a big sleepy doll and a doll bed and doll buggy and some apples, candy and some nuts.
Oh, bring me some joy dishes too. I guess that's all. Santa. Bye-bye to you.
My address is Thelma Hughes,
Steedman, Okla., LB 103.

Dear Santa Claus:
I am a little boy five years old and I want a little train and some candy, nuts and a lot of good things to eat. And please remember my little sister. She is three years old and she wants a doll.
From your little friends,
Melvin Ward,
Verdie Ward.

Dear Santa Claus:
I have been a good little boy every day this week and you must not forget me. You can bring me a new filver because the one I have is no good. Be sure it has a self-starter, and bring us a good rock, hound so he can show us tricks. If you have any oil wells you can bring me one of them as I need it very much. You needn't bring my friend Harold Duval anything as he wouldn't know how to use them if you did. Bring me some candy

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound

CLEARs THE THROAT of phlegm and mucus, stops that tickling, opens the air passages for easier breathing and coats the raw, inflamed surfaces with a healing, soothing medicine.

Grateful Father Tells What It Did
W. E. Curry, 130 Up 8th St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "I have a little girl 6 years who has a good deal of trouble with croup. I have used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, giving it to her according to directions, and obtaining instant relief for her. My wife and I use it whenever bothered with a bad cold or cough, and I will say that it is the best remedy for a bad cold, cough, throat trouble or croup that I ever saw."

Parents who use Foley's Honey and Tar know it is safe and no harm will come even if an overdose should be given by accident. It tastes good and children like it. It won't upset the delicate stomachs of young children, delicate persons or elderly people.

and fruit. You needn't bring any nuts as I sleep with one every night. That's all for this time.
Your little friend,
Caswell Proctor.

$40,000,000 PAID FOR THE MAPPING OF U. S.

Several factors have combined to put added emphasis on the country's need of an adequate large scale map of its whole territory. The industrial development of the Nation and the consequent variety of engineering projects of land reclamation, of power generation and most recently of highway construction have created a demand for the topographic map based upon accurate surveys and the war not only called attention to the defenseless condition of much of the country's border area, where the Army had no maps upon which to base its campaigns, but their military experience overseas taught hundreds of thousands of citizen soldiers how to read and use topographic maps.

With nearly 60 per cent of the area of the country totally unmapped and much that has been mapped in need of resurveys, and with the Geological Survey, the largest mapping organization in the country, surveying only about 40 per cent of the area in 40 years, the logical demand is for more speed. If these maps are to serve their full purpose in promoting national development the whole country must be mapped within this generation, or, even better, within the next decade. The estimated cost of this mapping program is $40,000,000 including the cost of revising the older surveys.

To accomplish this work within the period desired would, however, involve more than the appropriation of this amount of money by the Federal and State governments. An organization of specially trained engineers must be built up by means of gradually increased appropriations, beginning with $700,000 for the field season of 1919 and reaching a maximum of $4,500,000 in 1928. It is believed that on such a scale of expenditure the field surveys could be both economically and effectively executed, and the work could be completed in 1932.

The active cooperation of the States in such a program is expected by reason of the increased interest in topographic mapping throughout the country, for counties as well as States are now planning for dollar-for-dollar cooperation with the Federal Government in financing these necessary surveys. With the Geological Survey's appropriation for topographic surveys, with cooperative State funds, and with the special funds for military mapping contributed by the War Department, approximately $700,000 becomes available for the year beginning July 1, 1919.

At an engineering conference held at Chicago last April of engineers, architects, and constructors representing 74 national, State and local organizations, with an aggregate membership of over 100,000 men, resolutions were adopted urging the speeding up of this work of completing the topographic map of the United States.

This indorsement of the topographic maps by the engineering profession was a well-considered expression of a general demand for something needed by the members of the engineering organizations represented at the conference. These practical men realize that every dollar of Federal and State funds appropriated for these surveys, if spent in the next ten years, will save many dollars that otherwise must be expended by corporations and individuals and even Government bureaus in fragmentary surveys made for special purposes, and the worst feature of such an uneconomic procedure would be that it would provide no maps for the use of the general public. It is therefore, an underestimate of the national economy involved to say that the dollar spent in time for this purpose will save nine. The program of mapping the whole country for the use of this generation appears warranted as an essential item in the larger plans for the best use of the Nation's resources. (Annual Report of Director, United States Geological Survey.)

The 'Life' of the Editor of LIFE

Masson is one boy who never wanted to run away to sea. That's because he had crossed the ocean sixteen times before he was twelve years old, for his father was captain of a sailing ship. You might expect from this early start that Tom Masson would write more sea stories than Clarke Russell and Jack London rolled into one. Wrong. Tom Masson writes the delicately humorous captions to most of Gibson's cartoons and his work has no allusion to marlinbones, or garboard strakes or similar technicalities. He always does the unlooked for and that's why he edits "Life". In the suburban town of Glen Ridge, N. J., he is a substantial citizen, and was member of the Board of Education for many years. He is the father of a family of four, and there is also a grandchild. But to the readers of "Life" he is the satirist with a delicate turn to his razor-like wit and an amused spectator of the froth of metropolitan existence. He was born in 1866 in Essex, Conn., went to school in New Haven (after sailing around the world), tried his hand at selling goods on the road and detested it, tried writing verse for the old New York "Sun" and liked it immensely, and since 1893 has been literary editor of "Life".—From Edholm's "Life of Masson."

ARMORE LINOTYPE MAN

Mr. John Thrasher has become a most welcome addition to the working staff of The Ardmoreite, which for some time has been seeking a machinist-operator to operate a linotype (typesetting machine) and look after the battery of machines in a general way. The entire working force of the paper was mighty glad to get Mr. Thrasher, who comes so well-recommended by his old employer, the Ada News. The force is a unit in expressing the hope that his health will be restored altogether and that he will be one of those to "stick" on The Ardmoreite.

Congress Adjourns For Holiday Recess After Heavy Rush

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. — The Christmas recess of congress began at 11:12 P. M., tonight, when the senate adjourned, to meet again January 5. The house adjourned four minutes earlier and no business was transacted in either body this evening.

The delay in adjournment was necessary to permit bills passed today to be prepared for the signatures of the speaker of the house and the president of the senate before being transmitted to the White House. The bills were present at adjournment.

Congress closed tonight until January 5 for its holiday session with the usual travail of adjournment congestion.

Under the holiday schedule, more business was transacted today than often goes through in a month. Left for action in January, however, were many important measures, including the peace treaty.

Closing hours of the senate were observed by two-thirds of the members of the body but the session of the house went over.

Trains leaving Washington tonight were crowded with members and their families homeward bound, and nearly all business is to be suspended until reconvening on January 5 when congress is prepared to undertake work expected to hold it in session until the presidential campaign next fall.

A score of bills and resolutions mostly of a minor character, were passed today. Important measures included the Cummins railroad bill in the senate, the sugar control bill, sent to the president, the Sweet bill, increasing insurance allowances of men disabled in the war, and the $33,000,000 urgent deficiency appropriation bill.

The house passed and sent to the senate the alien deportation bill aimed at radical agitators, and the senate ordered investigation by the foreign relations committee of bolshevik propaganda.

While enrolling clerks worked at top speed to complete bills for signatures of the vice president and speaker, the senate and house recessed for dinner and only a handful of members returned for the formal adjournment.

CHRISTMAS DONATIONS BEFORE TUESDAY NOON

Anyone having something to donate to the cause of the United Charities of Ada, in order that there may be a bit of Christmas cheer in more homes, should take it to the Red Cross headquarters over the Guaranty State Bank not later than 12 o'clock Tuesday noon. In case someone has something to give and cannot take it to the above mentioned place, they should call Rev. S. B. Dameron, telephone 616, and he will see that it gets there.

Supreme Court Took Holiday Recess Today Without Further Act

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The supreme court today recessed until Jan. 5 without handing down an opinion of the constitutionality of sections of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act affecting the alcoholic content of beer.

The supreme court ordered the government to show cause on Jan. why original proceedings should be instituted by the states of New York and New Jersey liquor dealers to have determined the constitutionality of the national prohibition act.

Justice Brandeis said: "Yes, it's too late for the government to ask for a rehearing after Christmas agony. The bills have been passed when the bills were passed to come in."
